

Philipp Elected; Republican Landslide in Nation

PHILIPP'S PLURALITY TWENTY THOUSAND; IS STILL INCREASING

McGOVERN RUNNING BEHIND
THE REST OF THE REPUB-LICAN TICKET.

BLAINE A BAD THIRD

Karel Made a Good Race—Husting
Probably Will Lead His Teammate in Final Count.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Milwaukee, Nov. 4.—Incomplete returns for more than 50 out of 71
counties in the state, give Philipp a lead of 11,000 votes, which will probably be augmented to 20,000 or more
when the final figures are returned.
The totals for these counties are,
Philipp, 91,615; Karel, 80,150; Blaine,
18,534.

According to present indications
Blaine will not poll more than 25,000 votes in the entire state. In many counties his votes ranged from one to five hundred, with the exceptions
of La Crosse, where he obtained
1,217, Rock county, 1,224 and Winneago, 1,337.

The senatorial election appears to be more doubtful than at first reported. Present incomplete figures for 59 counties give Hustings $3,887, and McGovern $3,903. Hustings had a lead of over a thousand in Milwaukee county, which is augmented by additional pluralities in many of the large counties of the state.

Hustings carried Dane county by 1,000, Brown county by 800, Jefferson county by 900, Fond du Lac county
by 200, Manitowish county by 1,600, Oconto county by 200, Washington county by 500.

The entire republican state ticket
is ahead.

The late figures for Milwaukee county, which still lack several days, are: Philipp, 20,357; Karel, 18,534; Ameringer, 15,484; Blaine,
1,337.

The same precincts of Milwaukee county gave Hustings 20,778, McGovern 16,751, and Siegel, 16,925. Hustings will carry Milwaukee county approximately 5,000 votes, but this lead will be overcome by a heavy vote for McGovern in the state.

The Wisconsin delegation in congress will be unchanged, every one of the eleven members from the state having been re-elected. The serious fight which the republicans were engaged in the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th congressional districts. In the fourth and fifth districts of Milwaukee county, the republicans made a hard fight, but the democrats made a heavy vote for the republicans in the sixth and seventh districts, which is always democratic, and appeared to have won down Burke's majority to zero.

Considerable interest will center
about the Wisconsin delegation if the Francis E. McGovern.

has been captured by the republicans because of the ambition of L. Lenroot of Superior to be speaker. Lenroot has been a strong La Pol-la supporter. It is understood that the progressive republicans in the senate will center on him for a candidate. He was once session
speaker of the Wisconsin assembly,
and is known as a skilled parliamentarian.

The results in Milwaukee county for county officers are as follows: District attorney, W. C. Zabel, social conservative; sheriff, E. T. Meima, social democrat; clerk of court, C. C.
Hess, non-partisan; county clerk,
Marie Plehm; county treasurer,
Theodore Dammann, non-partisan;
register of deed, E. H. Mueller, non-partisan; coroner, Frank Imelberg, non-partisan; surveyor, H. C. Webster,
non-partisan.

The amendments were all beaten.
Green County Returns.

Monroe, Nov. 4.—The republicans won handsily in Green county according to complete unofficial returns today.
The republican governor was followed by Philipp, 1,611; Karel, 861; Blaine, 153. McGovern received 1,430 and Husting 1,148. The county carried for McGovern as congressman from the Third district.

The county ticket went strongly republican and Schindler of New Glarus,
a republican, was elected assemblyman
by a vote of 1,684 to 906 over Blaine, the democratic aspirant.

Whitewater Strongly Republican.

Whitewater, Nov. 4.—The straight whitewater ticket showed unusual strength at the election here. Philipp's vote was 142 in the city and township,
Karel 159 for Karel and 83 for Blaine.
McGovern received 291 and Hustings
154. For Walworth county members of assembly the vote went in favor of George Harrington, republican, 356 to 176 for Lawrence Clancy, democrat.

Washington, Nov. 4.—A federal quar-

CATS IN LIMELIGHT AT COLUMBUS, OHIO.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., Nov. 4.—Aristocratic Tabbies from many cities throughout the country were brought here today
for the first exclusive cat show to be held in Columbus. The women in charge, members of the Ohio State Cat Club, expected two hundred cats to be on exhibition during the three days of the show. The club will donate the proceeds to this Baby Camp.

There are 123 classes of cats for which prizes are offered and it is expected that there will be entire classes of American and foreign breeds.
Entries were received from all over the eastern section of the country.

Dr. Mary E. Jones, of Boston, entered several of her babies, among them Kinkajou, one of the best known cats in the country.

MEMBERSHIP AT OXFORD CUT OVER HALF THROUGH STUDENTS GOING TO WAR

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oxford, Eng., Nov. 4.—Oxford University has opened with 2,000 undergraduates instead of about 3,000. The nominating committee of the military board has published a list of 1,300
members of the University who have been recommended for commissions.
This list, however, contains the names
of a good many men who are already graduates of several years' standing.
Of the actual undergraduates members Oxford has sent 1,600 to swell
the numbers of his Majesty's land forces. Of the remainder left in Oxford
a considerable fraction is composed of American and Indian students who are not eligible for the British army.
The German Rhodes scholars are, of course, conspicuous of their absence.

ACCUSED OF DOUBLE MURDER, AL MOORE'S TRIAL BEGINS.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Moundsville, W. Va., Nov. 4.—For
"getting into a hell of a mess over an old fish net and starting a young graveyard down the river" Al Moore is to be tried for his life in the Moundsville circuit court here today. Moore, on the afternoon of July 16, killed William Arn and Harry L. Purdy, two Moundsville young men, whom he accused of having stolen a fishnet from him a year before.

He was about to shoot Roy McGill,
who stood near by pleading for the lives of Arn and Purdy, when McGill's wife threw herself in front of her husband and saved him. Moore then went to a "speaking easy" and was arrested when he left shortly after midnight, by a posse that lay in wait
for him.

Insanity will probably be the defense. Moore has joked with fellow-prisoners since his arrest and referred to the shootings as "starting a graveyard."

OLYMPIC GAME OFFICIALS ARRESTED AS SPY WHEN TRAVELING IN AUSTRIA

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Nov. 4.—Christian Hellstrom, secretary of the Olympic Games in Stockholm, 1912, when travelling recently in Germany and Austria on behalf of a London company of whom he is now manager,
was several times arrested as an English spy. Once in Austria, when waiting on a railway platform, the officials were quite sure Mr. Hellstrom was a spy and the crowd had already started aggressive behavior toward the Swede when he dug out of his luggage
a certificate of the Order of the Red Eagle, which was conferred upon him
after the games. This certificate also on later occasions proved still more useful and efficient than did the more Swedish Government's passport. Mr. Hellstrom is now in London again.

REPUBLICAN WAVES SWEEP COUNTRY IN UNIVERSAL PROTEST

AGAINST THE DEMOCRATIC AD-MINISTRATION—PROGRES-SIVES LOSE.

DEMOCRATS CONTROL

Of Congress, According to Present Figures—Cannon Re-elected to Lower House—New York and Pennsylvania
Republican.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Nov. 4.—While not conceding they have lost control of the next congress, the democratic leaders are staggered by the overwhelming republican gains along the line, and claim however that they will have thirty majority when congress is called.

Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire and Wisconsin all returned to the republican column by large majorities, and the loss to the progressives throughout the country is so marked that the most optimistic of the leaders of this faction admit its end has come.

Eighty-five congressional districts
were yet to be heard from at noon.
The gain of the republican seats was placed at thirteen in the next congress standing at present 155 democrats, 162 republicans and three progressives. The last congress was 285 democratic, 123 republicans and 15
progressives.

The democratic leaders expect to make up their working majority of 218
from the 85 districts not yet reported.
At noon 33 districts in New York, 6 in Pennsylvania, 12 in Missouri, 10 in Minnesota, 8 in California were not reported. The democratic leaders expect to carry 6 of these to get the needed majority.

In the United States the democratic party will probably still remain eight.
The reports at noon showed that James D. Phelan of California had succeeded Senator Perkins, republican, and the reelection of Newlands
and Thomas in Nevada and Colorado.
In Kansas the fight appears to be between Curtis, republican, and Mordock, progressive, with the democratic candidate a bad third.

Phelan was re-elected in Pennsylvania with the entire republican state ticket. While in Massachusetts Walsh, democrat, won the governorship, the entire republican state ticket and legislative is republican. Nebraska is republican. In Ohio Harding, republican, is elected senator.

Surfrage is believed to have lost in Ohio, Missouri, North Dakota, South
Dakota, although not complete as yet.

St. Paul, Nov. 4.—Congressman W.
F. Hammond, democrat, was elected governor of Minnesota yesterday by an estimated majority of about 25,000
to 50,000 over the republican opponent, Wm. E. Lee, of Long Prairie, according to incomplete returns today. The progressive vote for governor was light.

IN MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Nov. 4.—Revised returns for governor in the state election yesterday from all but one city ward and one small town, comprising 1,123 out of 1,250 precincts, gave Governor Walsh, democrat, 205,281; Mordock, republican, 194,988; Walker, progressive, 34,674.

IN IOWA.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—An incomplete return for the four counties of the county of Iowa the election of Senator Cummings by a plurality of between 25,000 and 30,000 is indicated,
and the reelection of Governor Clark assured by 30,000 more. They have carried the entire republican ticket to victory with them, sending a solid delegation to congress.

Colorado Prohibition.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Halleluia! Halleluia!
Colorado has gone dry.
This telegram was received at National W. C. T. U. headquarters here today from Adrian Hungerford, president of the state W. C. T. U. of Colorado.

Shively in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—Incomplete
returns early today indicate the re-election of Senator Shively by a plurality of about 20,000, and of the entire state democratic ticket. The progressives ran a poor third. Indiana's solid democratic delegation was broken, the republicans winning in the Seventh and Tenth districts.

Out in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 4.—Returns
from 584 precincts out of 1,467 in Oregon show for governor Withycomp, republican, leading by plurality of approximately 5,000.

Was Elected.

Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—Frank B. Willis, republican, defeated Governor James Cox, democrat, for governor of Ohio
in yesterday's election.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Arizona
went dry in the early election yesterday. Returns early today indicate that prohibition won the state, but by an as yet unestimated majority. Wet drinks come to be eleven dollars a gallon by about six hundred, while the drys claim the state by at least 2,000.

Cannon Wins.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 4.—Joseph G.
Cannon carried the eighteenth Illinois
district by approximately 1,500.

Loss Governorship.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 4.—W. N. Ferris, democrat, was elected governor of Michigan, defeating Chase Osborn,
republican.

On the face of the returns early today republicans had won in every congressional district except the first and second, at the same time defeating Michigan with two progressive congressmen who sought re-election.

General Gossip.

New York, Nov. 4.—Incomplete returns from the twenty-nine states
where gubernatorial elections were held, shows today that eleven democrats and ten republicans have been elected, and that in seven states the result was apparently undetermined.
In the seven states the republican candidates are leading in five, and the democrats in two. The former apparently have won the governorship
entirely has re-elected Governor Hiram Johnson, progressive.

Of these twenty-nine states, sixteen
at present time have democratic governors, eleven republican governors,
and two progressive governors.

GERMANS WITHDRAW FROM BANK OF YSER

Paris Announcement Today Claims
That Allies Continue to Make Gains in France and Belgium.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, Nov. 4.—The French war office gave out official announcement as follows:

"On our left wing to the north the situation shows no change as compared with yesterday. The enemy has drawn back on the right bank of the Yser. We have recaptured Lombaertzyde. The Germans occupy on the left bank of the Yser nothing more than the bridge, half way between Dixmude and Neuport. They have abandoned in addition to prisoners and wounded men, a considerable quantity of war material including artillery which became immovable
when stuck in the mud."

"Between Dixmude and the Yser, the fighting has continued with alternate advance and withdrawal, but with the general result that the allied forces have made perceptible progress."

"Between the Yser and the region of Arras, there has been cannonading
and minor engagements."

"Between the region of Arras and the Oise, we have made advances
east of Le Quesnoy-en-Santerre as far as the heights of Parvillies."

"On the center of the German attack which developed on the right bank of the Aisne in the region of Vailly and which resulted in our losing the first slope to north of Vailly and north of Crayonne did not continue yesterday, but the allied forces
brought again into our possession a portion of the lost ground."

A violent cannonading and spirited German attack were repulsed on the heights Des Dames and the vicinity of Rheims. There has been no happening of importance between Rheims and the Meuse, nor in the Worms district.

"On our right wing in Lorraine
there is nothing new."

BRITISH ARE FIRING ON THE DARDANELLES

Turkish Forts Are Shelled by English
Warships—Russian Vessel
Reported Sunk.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, Nov. 4.—A dispatch to the Havas news agency from Athens says that the bombardment of the forts of the Dardanelles which was particularly in chief by the British fleet,
was suspended momentarily, but later
was resumed and continued until ten o'clock this morning. 70 shells in all were fired at the Turkish forts.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 4.—
The Vossische Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Sofia saying that Turkish tleship "Dmitri Donskoi."

Turks Seize Shipping.

London, Nov. 4.—The Turkish authorities, according to a Reuter's Telegram company dispatch from Constantinople at Sofia have begun to seize the shipping lying off Constantinople.
The Porte also have ordered the extinction of the lighthouses in the Mediterranean littoral.

Engagement Near Smyrna.

Paris, Nov. 4.—The Echo de Paris
published a dispatch from Belgrade
on the Swiss frontier saying that an Anglo French fleet attacked the Turkish fleet which was always weaker at the entrance of the Gulf of Tchesme, near Smyrna, in Asiatic Turkey. The Turks, themselves, sunk both vessels to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy.

WALKED FROM MILTON TO THIS CITY TODAY

Robert Carr, Aged 84 Today, Enjoys
Bi-annual Trip to Janesville—
Lives Alone And is Healthy.

Wednesday, November fourth, is the eighty-fourth birthday of Robert Carr
of Milton Junction, and incidentally the anniversary of his arrival in the nine miles from his home at the Junction to Janesville. Sometimes he walks back again after dinner, but this year he returned on the train as he had some work to finish at home
before night.

Mr. Carr is a veteran of the Civil war. He is hale and hearty, works in the fields, or about the village, with as much vim as a man many years his junior, and in fact gives some of the younger men a good, hard tussle to beat him. He lives alone, but his little home, as neat as wax and as comfortable as a feather bed, is ready to receive him at any time.

Twice a year he walks to Janesville
—once in the summer and again on his birthday. He made excellent time on his last trip, and after a dinner at the hotel was ready to walk back again, none the treader apparent for his efforts.

WHAT ELECTIONS IN STATE ACCOMPLISHES

Charles Pierce, President of the Home Rule and Taxpayers' League, Makes Statement.

Charles Pierce, president of the Home Rule and Taxpayers' League, so largely responsible for the results of Tuesday's election, gives his view of the results obtained in the following statement:

"Theoretical and experimental government erroneously called 'progressive' and known as the 'Wisconsin
idea' has been patiently and thoroughly tried by the people of Wisconsin
during the last decade and found to be wholly unsatisfactory and widely extraneous and by their ballot the electors have in a most decided manner repudiated so-called progressivism
—the political fraud and experimenter
and next January will see installed
in this state a government of real progress run economically on business principles, and we will be better governed at half the expense to the taxpayer."

CHARITY MUST ACT TO CONQUER STATUS OF BELGIUM NATION

German Ravaged Country in Heart-Breaking Position—People Starving and Desolate.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Belgium is in destitute circumstances. Not Belgium alone must be redeemed, but the vast multitude of the now, mostly through that remains the little nation that must be carried for. It behooves the United States to act accordingly.

The extreme horror of the situation
can never be realized by an American.
Only when a catastrophe that occurs
in the near vicinity of one that has a great national bearing do we Americans seek to extend our utmost help
and sympathy to the sufferers.

But the United States must act and act quickly for the sake of humanity and the slogan of brotherly love in the case of that army-ridden and desolate little nation.

Germany has already annexed the country as a portion of the rapidly declining German empire. But Germany has her hands full caring for her vast territory of the welfare of the Belgians. Surely they are doing much to alleviate the suffering of the people but their efforts are wholly inadequate. War and charity on this scale require more money than we have.

It must be American money for the relief of the people of the defenders of Liege and Namur and Diant and Antwerp and Mons. The heartfelt sympathy of the United States must go to those people. They are starving. Their homes are masses of charred and shell-punctured ruins. In the fields the grain, rotten and trampled, send up a sickening
fumes to make more worse the environment of the sufferers.

Last evening the Gazette announced its collection of a movement swiftly gaining national prominence for the help of the little nation of Belgium.
This paper invited Janesville and the surrounding community to contribute to the fund which will be used for needy Belgians.

Today subscription lists were placed in the banks of the city, the First National, the Merchants and Savings,
the Rock County National and the Bower City. One will also be found at Baker's drug store and another at the Gazette office.

As the contributions grow they will be announced in the paper each evening. Those desiring to lend a helping hand can call at either of the six places named, place their name and amount, they wish to contribute on the respective list and hand the sum
to those in charge.

Arrangements are now under way
for the proper disposal of the money collected. The Gazette will turn it over to the Belgian Relief Committee relied upon for their integrity and honesty in affairs of this nature.

Now is the time for you to be a good fellow, for families to save a little on this or that and turn the sum over to the fund, for societies and organizations to sit up and get in the swim and place Janesville on the map
as a haven of hospitality and good will.

The Ohio flood disaster fund in the city brought Janesville to its feet with the realization that this district was in dire straits. Belgium, just a little larger than the flooded district, but with twenty-five times as many people, is suffering agonies that never crossed the thought of at Dayton.
It behooves you to act and act NOW.
Now is the acceptable time.

NEARLY HALF OF JERSEY'S CONVICTS ARE STUDYING.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Trenton, Nov. 4.—New Jersey's prison night school for convicts has been opened at the penitentiary here
and the popularity of this feature of the prison's life is attested by the fact that over forty per cent of its population has enrolled for the fall and winter courses of study, according to figures given out today.

This school is unique in state. In its convict pupils are represented practically every offense known to students of criminology. The scale runs from murder down to petty larceny. While the principal aim of the night school is to fit the convict for better things when he has served his sentence and is released from the gray walls of the institution, it is interesting to note that "life term-ers," who are lacking in educational attainments, are as eager to study as the man with the sentence of one year.

New Jersey's prison school was established in 1905 mainly through the nervy of the Rev. Father Aloys
M. Fisi, then one of the prison's chaplains, whose experience as a student of convicts through many years' association with the prison convinced him of its usefulness as a means of reformation. The head of the educational department and the institution, Edward C. Manning, has many testimonials from former pupils, who are now out in the world, bearing an honest livelihood,
bearing proof of the worth and efficiency of the prison school.

VICTORY IN PACIFIC

London is Stunned at Result of Naval Engagement in Which Two Ships
Were Destroyed Off Chilean Coast.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Nov. 4.—With the pressure on the Franco-Belgian coast relieved, interest in London has again been diverted from land operations to naval movements. The daring dash of the German squadron to within ten miles of the northeast coast of England indicates that the prolonged inactivity
of the larger units of the German fleet has been broken by a raid on the English; but much satisfaction was expressed that the cruiser Halcyon
by the clever seamanship of her commander, escaped from a tight corner practically unscathed.

German Mobilize Fleet.

Copenhagen, via London, Nov. 4.—A fleet of German warships has gathered off the island of Heligoland in the Baltic Sea, northeast of Stockholm and opposite the entrance to the Gulf of Finland. They evidently were proceeding north and have stopped to await orders.

German Naval Victory.

Valparaiso, Chile, Nov. 4.—The victory of the German fleet under Admiral Von Spee, consisting of the armored cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau,
and the light cruisers Nürnberg, Leipzig and Bremen, over the British squadron, made up of the cruisers
Monmouth, Good Hope and Glasgow,
and the transport Otranto, commanded by Rear Admiral Cradock, continues the sensation of the hour here.

That the Germans were able to sink or capture the British fleet with only minor damage to their own ships and casualty list of only two wounded, is a subject of wonder.

Memorandum is Lost.

The Monmouth is known to have been lost with practically all of her crew as a result of this big naval fight of the war. The Good Hope was severely damaged, and on fire, when she escaped the clutches of the Otranto and it is believed here that she went to the bottom while the Glasgow and Otranto took refuge in a Chilean port.

The German Admiral Gneisenau and Nürnberg were still in the harbor
early today, coaling and provisioning
preparatory for steaming away later in the day. It is supposed they will relieve the cruisers Leipzig and Bremen, which have the Glasgow and Otranto bottled up in the port of Talcaguano, eight miles northwest of Concepcion. It would seem like madness for the British ships to leave this haven of refuge and it is likely that they will be dismantled and in-turned unless a superior British and Japanese fleet should make its appearance and come to their relief.

Von Spee Sends Report.

Admiral Von Spee in his official report of the battle which took place
Sunday afternoon off the Chilean island of St. Maria, says that the action lasted only an hour, being discontinued at midnight, when the British were forced to fire away.

"The Good Hope," he said, "was so badly damaged that she was unable to resist and could only make her escape protected by the darkness."
The fourth order of battle condition
tried to escape, but was followed by a small cruiser and was sunk
in a few shots. Owing to the hurri-can that was blowing no boats could be lowered and consequently there was a terrible loss of life."

The German admiral, in noting the escape of the Glasgow and the Otranto,
says that it was due to their speed
and darkness.

REPUBLICANS CARRY ASSEMBLY DISTRICTS

WHITTET AND WINEGAR WILL REPRESENT ROCK COUNTY IN THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

WHITTET WINS BY 266

Alexander Paul of Milton Gives Edgerton Man a Close Race But Falls Behind in City of Janesville.

Lawrence C. Whittet, republican, will represent the first assembly district of Rock county in the legislature at the next session, succeeding Alexander Paul of Milton, a democrat. The second district will be represented by Albert J. Winegar of Beloit, also a republican.

The victory of the republicans in the second district was decisive, as Winegar carried every one of the twenty-one precincts with the exception of the town of Rock, which went for his democratic opponent, Richard Whittet's margin over Paul was 266 votes, according to complete unofficial returns. He carried ten out of the sixteen precincts in the district, including the First, Second and Third wards of the city of Janesville and the cities of Evansville and Edgerton. The city of Janesville carried for Whittet by 107 votes, the total count in the five wards being 937 for Whittet and 869 for Paul.

Paul's harvest, endorsement was given in his home precinct, the town of Milton, where he received 200 votes against Whittet's 76. Paul failed to receive as large a vote as expected in the Fourth and Fifth wards of Janesville, the Fourth carrying for him by only 54 and the Fifth by 63. The towns of Fulton, Janesville and Lima went for Paul by close votes. The village of Milton carried for Whittet by 107.

Not only are the two men elected to the assembly at the polls Tuesday republicans, but they were endorsed by the Home Rule and Taxpayers' League. Both are men of ability with excellent records as business men and citizens. The following tables tell the story of the contests for assemblymen:

ROCK RIVER FISH TO NEW YORK CITY

State Takes Carp and Buffalo From River and Makes Money in Sales to Fish Companies.

Twenty-five thousand pounds of Rock river carp and carp constituted a railway shipment from here today to the Lyons Fish Company at New York. Some of the fish was taken from the river at Fort Atkinson, but the greater portion came from the vicinity of the Four Mile bridge.

At New York they will be prepared for the market. They command a good price from the tenement and poorer districts of the city. The shipment was made during the week in the rumor on the streets today that the consignment was to be canned and sold as salmon.

The work is a financial investment for the state of Wisconsin. Last year approximately $17,000 went to the state treasury as Wisconsin's share from the inland water fishing. The state completes all the arrangements, collects the money and pays the fisherman about $7,500 went to the men who did the actual work.

The men had been at work here above the Four Mile bridge for about three weeks.

ELECTION DAY DRUNK GIVEN A JAIL TERM

John Peters Causes Quite a Sensation Being in Runaway and the Breaking Drunk Record.

The police record pertaining to the number of arrests made for intoxication was broken yesterday morning when John Peters, a farmer, was arraigned in the municipal court before Judge Maxfield for over indulgence. That Peters became intoxicated on election day is a rather unusual case, but nevertheless, Peters admitted being drunk in court, and was given ten days' jail sentence.

He had a very exciting experience yesterday afternoon, figuring in a runaway near Riverview Park. Peters was unable to manage his horse and the animal ran into a tree, throwing him to the road and cutting his face slightly. The police were called and Patrolman Smith found the "red-head" hanging on to a post with an expression on his face as if the world was speeding around him topsy-turvy. In court Peters pleaded guilty, but maintained that he was not drunk, but merely "plastered" where he obtained the liquor yesterday.

LOST HANDBAG RETURNED TO POLICE DEPARTMENT

The police department were mystified last evening to find a valuable black wallet, as used by attorneys, on the sidewalk in front of the city hall, being placed carefully to the side of the curb leading to the station. One of the officers picked the paper bundle carefully and disclosed the bag.

The wallet is owned by N. B. Kizer a lawyer residing in Whitewater. Last Monday Mr. Kizer reported to the police department that the bag containing legal papers of value had been lost or taken from the Madison train on which he was returning in the evening after attending the football game at Madison. A reward of five dollars was offered in the Gazette classified column. Evidently the person who found or took the wallet did not care to have his or her identity known. It was reported by the attorney to the police that only four or five girls occupied the car in which he was riding. The wallet was empty when found.

BALNN-DRAEGER NUPTIALS PERFORMED SUNDAY EVENING

A honeymoon trip to the northern part of the state was taken. They will be at home at 806 Prospect avenue after November 15. The groom is a call man at Fire Station No. 1. Mrs. Draeger was formerly a highly respected employee of the Janesville Steam Dye Works.

A Hard Meal to Digest

It is Quickly Digested by the Taking of A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After It is Over.
Corn on the cob is hard to digest, for some folk, but with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet it readily is digested, or by the stomach and digestive apparatus.

Don't drug your stomach. Give it just what it needs at the very moment it needs it. Here is the way a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet acts:

He—"I can eat corn now and feel O.K. A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet will quickly digest it!"
One takes a tablet just after the meal is completed. It is taken into the mouth like food; it is mixed with the saliva; swallowed moist and partially dissolved. It goes into the stomach and is there mixed with the stomach juices which are composed of acids and alkalies.

A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet reinforces these juices. It quickly digests the elements which such weakened juices cannot digest.

After a while the stomach passes the meal partially digested to the intestines, where it goes through another stage of digestion. Here, as in the stomach, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets strengthen the juices of digestion and complete the work of giving the body the benefit of the meal.

There is nothing harmful in these tablets. Only natural ingredients which the body lacks are supplied. In short time the blood and digestive juices are given the power they lack. Man can digest any food without injury and the entire health of the body is increased. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold wherever drugs are sold, price 50 cents a box. Anyone wishing a free trial of these tablets please address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., and a small sample package will be mailed free.

SPORTS

BOXING FANS AWAIT WELSH-WHITE BOUT

Championship Match Will be Next Big Feature in Ring Game. Boxing Near Death in the West.

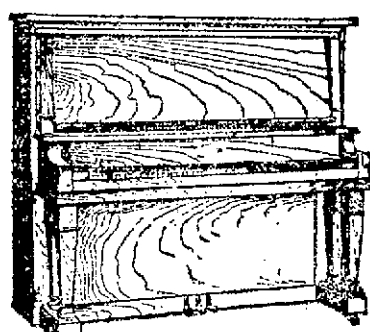

(By Strikes.)

The entire interest of fight fans now centers on the coming ten round bout between Charlie White and Welsh, the second Englishman to hold the title in history, and Charlie White, which will be staged in Milwaukee on the 14th. Welsh has shown his inclination to fight and defend his title against tough American lightweights, and his defeat of Ad Wolgast through the unfortunate injury to the Michigan fighter in the fifth round, has increased his stock considerably in this country.

Welsh has shown the American fans that he can fight and can fight good. His opponent Charlie White, the Chicago Hebrew is considered to have just as much boxing ability up his sleeves as his English rival and has been picked by many critics as the best 135 pounder in America. Welsh is of the type that fight lovers can not help but admire if he does take too much of the dancing game in escaping punishment. He is not a possessor of a knock-out punch and it is certain that the distance is too short in the Milwaukee fight for Welsh to wear White down with his continual light jabbing as he did Wolgast. Clearly, Welsh is the champion in the early rounds in their New York mill. If there is a K. O. made it will be Charlie White who will slip the sleep-producing wad across, for the Chicago fighter carries a dangerous kick and can deliver it with either hand. Records from the K. O. standpoint clearly give White a big advantage for he has heard the fatal count of ten over many of his ring opponents.

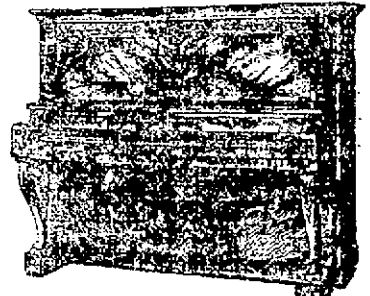

Nor does this ascertain mean that White will whip Welsh via the "big kick route" for the champion is one of the cleverest men that ever put on a glove and who comes to science. White is considered below Welsh's ability. In the ring Welsh makes his opponent look foolish his science keeping out of danger's path and allowing him to hit his opponent at will. On attack Welsh is credit to have many break punches in his repertoire but which are of a feather duster variety.

White clearly has one advantage in that he can hit a terrific punch and is not far behind Welsh in science. The Milwaukee battle can decide this point for White has shown that he could sway warriors with a slugger and execute the clever "stuff" with all those that have been stacked against him and this includes many fighters that have held Welsh to good draws before he annexed his title. There is one satisfaction concerning Welsh, an Englishman, holding the championship which is not considered by English fight experts is that Welsh learned the game from the ground-up in the United States but managed to annex the title over a 22 in the United States. White has already started working for the Milwaukee bout in Chicago and Welsh is expected from New York to start light training in Milwaukee this week. The champion will not have to go through the rigors of training to reduce weight but will have to use care in his vegetarian preparation not to grow stale.

The fight game is suffering reverses on the Pacific coast where it is in a precarious condition. The ring game appears to be doomed in California where more exhibitions are scheduled than any other commonwealth in the country because of the death of a boxer, an unfortunate happening. During a preliminary boxing bout between "Bill" and "Red" was punished badly and died from the effects of bruising which caused a cerebral hemorrhage. This will prove a mighty weapon, in the hands of the promoters, to bring about the abolition of legal boxing in this state. Every year added political pressure is brought to bear against the game in the west and boxing is now one of a legislative death in many western states.

On the other hand boxing is thriving in New York which appears to be a mecca of the leading battlers and everything indicates to most successful winter's sport in the metropolis. Business like methods on the part of the promoters has stimulated the game and the boxers are performing on the percentage which enables the New York boxing moguls to stage populist frays that are bound to draw the fans attention. At present Mike Gibbons, Kid Williams, Johnny Kibane, champion in divisions, Leach Cross are training and fighting in New York. An effort is being made to match Gunboat Smith, the hope who was sunk by a gloved and dead Welsh in the only heavyweight boxer left worthy of mention.

The game is also booming down in Mexico where good bouts are being scheduled and matches between champions are expected to be staged. Promoters of the Jaurez club are engineering to bring Willard and Johnson together in the Mexican ring, for the "Black Diamond" is likely to find the States unhealthy for me because of the court trouble in Chicago.

Kid Lewis, the present featherweight champion of Europe, the Welsh, reasoned fighting for coin was better than totting a gun for his country and has invaded the United States. Lewis is but 18 years of age and holds the lightweight title of Australia, which changes about every time some foreign fighter invades the Kansas land. Lewis, modestly is after the championship both from Kibane and Welsh. Lewis is the youngest fighter in the game that is of any note and should he succeed in grabbing off a title he will be the youngest fighter to hold in history such an honor.

Eddie McGoorty, recently aired his championship claims thoroughly through the press. The Oshkosh fighter weighs around 170 pounds, which discounts the story rumors around he was in the heavyweight ranks at the present time. McGoorty had eight fights in Australia and claims to have lost but one of them and that on a foul to Clabby. McGoorty is almost declaring himself champion pointing to his record and McGoorty is credit with winning a couple of bouts with Mike Gibbons several years ago but at the present time it is extremely doubtful if the Oshkosh fighter could hold a candle to the St. Paul lion who is the veteran man deserving of the middleweight honors.

Young Scotty, the Jones Island feather who has battled here many times has been signed to fight an unknown opponent before the Platteville club on Thanksgiving day. Scotty may appear before the Beloit club at their next exhibition and local fans would like to see the little slugger in action again especially against Ritchie Mitchell, his home-town rival who is being touted for the championship.

Janesville huntsmen are preparing for the annual trip to the northern woods for deer hunting, the season for which opens on Nov. 11th and closes on the 30th. During the past few days the nimrods have taken down the high powered rifle and called the cannon and prepared it for use during the coming week. A number of hunters will leave for the woods before the opening of the season for bird and small game hunting. Reports issued by State Game Warden John A. Shotts, indicated that deer and partridges are unusually plenty this year, the strict enforcement of the game laws giving the deer a chance to increase in number. The people of Wisconsin are rapidly coming to recognize the value of game protection in view of the fact that thousands of visiting sportsmen increase the license fees to the extent of many Warning Extended.

Valentine Reih, state deputy and federal game warden, gives the following version of the state game laws: The season for hunting or killing deer opens Nov. 11 and closes Nov. 30. Deer or a part of a carcass of a deer may be shipped or transported from Nov. 12 to Dec. 3. It is unlawful to have venison in possession after Dec. 3, except that a hunter who kills a deer and notifies the state or a deputy game warden before the season closes for killing deer, when the deer was killed and the number of pounds of venison then in possession, may keep the venison for his own family use.

Where Deer Are Protected.

Deer are protected in the counties of Grant, Lafayette, Green, Rock, Walworth, Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Waukesha, Jefferson, Dane, Iowa, Crawford, Richland, Sauk, Columbia, Dodge, Buffalo, Washington, Ozaukee, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Pepin, Marquette, Adams, Vernon, Monroe, La Crosse, Waushara, Winnebago, Calumet, Manitowoc, Portage and Waupaca at any time; and in the county of Wood until Nov. 10, 1914. It is unlawful to kill more than one deer during any one season, or by the aid of artificial light, or at night time, or by means of a snare, trap or snare, or from a scaffold, or in the water or on the ice, or to hunt deer with a dog.

How much per year does your washing cost you now?

YOU can do it at home for 3c a week instead of $3.00. No more trouble, no uncertainty, no tiresome hunts for satisfactory work.

Instead of getting thru Tuesday night, exhausted and tired for the rest of the week, with a Federal Washing Machine the washing is finished Monday A. M.—the rest of the day free to do work before neglected until the middle of the week.

Telephone for information today, or call at our salesrooms and see for yourself just how it works.

Janesville Electric Co.

No dog can be used to hunt any kind of game during the month of November, in counties where deer are allowed to be killed. The possession of a dog during the month of November in or about a hunting or logging camp in counties where it is allowed to hunt deer, shall be prima facie evidence of guilt. Any dog used in violation of the law may be seized, confiscated or killed.

Hunters Should Take Receipt. Hunters shipping or transporting deer or a part of a carcass of a deer should be careful in attaching the license coupon. They should always attach two shippers' tags with their name, license number and address, as many deer get lost in transit every fall, and in some cases the owner can not be found because there is no coupon or name or address on the carcass. Never forget to take a receipt from the express company, from the receiving agent for your deer.

Green deer heads may be shipped or transported to taxidermist without a license coupon upon permit of the state or a deputy game warden, before January 8. The hunting season for prairie chicken or grouse is closed since October 1. The season for partridges, woodcock, snipe, ducks, geese, mudhens, ricehens and rails closes, according to the state and federal laws, November 30.

Wild swan and harmless or insectivorous birds are protected at all times.

Season for Rabbits.

The season for rabbits and squirrels closes February 1; for raccoon, January 1.

The season for fisher, martin and mink opens November 15 and closes March 15. No gun, spear or a dog can be used for killing or catching these fur bearing animals or muskrat.

Beaver are protected at any time. The state and federal law prohibits the shipping of game birds, unless accompanied by the hunter on the same train, etc., who is in possession of a hunting license.

According to the new parcel post regulations, section 4772, postmasters are prohibited from accepting parcels containing dead bodies or parts thereof of wild animals or birds, or offered for shipment in violation of local laws or parcels containing game not marked with the nature of the contents and the address of the shipper. Such shipment by parcel post is a violation of the state and federal laws and the fine for such violations may amount to more than $100 for any one bird.

Sport Snap Shots

Harvard has adopted the spiral pass from the center to the punter. The other big teams are bound to follow, for this pass is undoubtedly more accurate and faster than the old Dartmouth started using this pass two years ago and in the opinion of Coach Frank Cavanaugh it is far superior to the end-over-end pass. The big Green team has used it even in the handling of the ball by the quarters, for the past two seasons, and could not be induced to change. The objections are that, as Charlie Brickley says, "it gets away from you, it goes like the devil." Sometimes, too, on a wet, muddy day, such as that of the Dartmouth-Princeton game last year, it is necessary to fall back on the old style pass. Occasionally, drop-kickers are found who prefer the end-over-end pass.

Fred Mitchell's name didn't get into many box scores last season. He's another cast-off signed by Stallings. But Fred got a winner's share of the world series coin and is credited by George Stallings with being a bigger factor in the success of the Braves than any other one man on the team. Mitchell is a veteran catcher. When Stallings took charge of the Braves he realized he needed an experienced backstop to help develop his young battery men. Stallings signed Mitchell and Fred played a big part in making winning players of Rudolph, Tyler, James and Covey. He also is bringing Dave Strand along to the point where they will be able to pitch winning ball.

The revival of the Olympic games is largely responsible for the modern stadium, which is now a part of the athletic institution of several big universities. It was not so many years ago that gymnasiums were considered a luxury even at the colleges. It was the University of Pennsylvania that built the first athletic field or stadium when Frank A. A. team is likely to play with the Indianapolis Feds next season. Paddy had his best season in the baseball the past campaign, catching

Harvard stadium. Cornell was whipped into line, and Princeton joined the procession last week. Yale will open the bowl November 21. It is not, however, in college athletic fields along that students enjoy advantages of physical training unknown a decade ago, but the equipment for gymnasiums has been carried to be desired. A swimming pool is now a regular part of the "gym," while the apparatus used in the "gym" includes almost everything known to modern athletic science, from rowing machines to needle baths.

Eddie Collins and Dick Rudolph both played up in the old Northern league in Vermont. Rudolph was with Rutland and Collins with Plattsburgh. Rudolph says the first time he pitched to Collins the latter drove the ball over the center fielder's head for three bases. Rudolph got $200 a week in Rutland. Later he pitched about three weeks for New Haven.

President Ben Johnson has issued a hurry-up call for the American league magnates to meet at Chicago November 6. This meeting usually is held in December, but several important matters require immediate attention, according to Ben's announcement.

A thing that is beginning to puzzle the fans of New York is what the Yankees are going to do for next season. So far not an announcement has been made of the purchase of a new player. Nothing has come up in the draft even.

American league scorers have escaped something. The St. Louis Browns have drafted a catcher named Markke from New London—but canceled the draft.

Pete Daley is the only player in the country who shared in two post-season prizes. Besides getting a share in the Giants-Yankee receipts, the Yankee outfielder split a share of the world's series prize 50-50 with Jimmy Walsh, who was traded for him to the Athletics.

Paddy Livingston, former Athletic and Nap, now a member of the Indianapolis A. A. team, is likely to play with the Indianapolis Feds next season. Paddy had his best season in the baseball the past campaign, catching the majority of the Hoosiers' games and batting well over 300. He regained the use of his throwing arm and cut down the base runners with ease. In fact, his work made such a hit with the Indianapolis Feds that Business Manager Watkins has invited him to submit his terms, saying he believes they can get together and mutually agree upon a salary that will be satisfactory. Livingston intends to submit his terms and if the Feds will give him a three-year contract, he will sever his connection with organized baseball.

Spears, who played one of the guards for Dartmouth at Princeton, is a sweet young thing, who, though he measures only five foot, eight from tip to tip, weighs just 242 pounds when he is trained down to his best football form. Spears started out as a tackle, but has lately been playing next to center.

Smile Right. When in doubt—smile. It is a safe play at almost any stage of life's game. But be sure it's the right kind of a smile—not the fawning smile, not the smile of fear which is better described as a grin, but the smile which says that the world is a pretty good sort of a place if you don't take it too seriously—the smile that says: "Come on, in, the joke's a good one."—Pictorial Review.

GOVERNOR PHILIPP.

The state takes off its hat today to Governor elect Philipp and the people are ready to hold up his hands and support him most loyally in his efforts to redeem the state from thralldom. It is gratifying to know that he will be backed by a legislature in sympathy with him, as well as by the people.

The turn of the tide comes as a relief to many people who have waited long and patiently for the epidemic, which has cursed the state, to run its course. The attack was violent and most persistent, but the hypnotic spell has been broken, and the man who so long wielded the sceptre in Wisconsin, is out and injured. His side partner Colonel Roosevelt has also been given a lesson which he may study with profit. "How the mighty have fallen."

REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE.

Returns from all over the country show that the Republican party still enjoys the confidence of the people, and that the Democratic party has again been tried and found wanting. The Wilson administration, in spite of Mr. Wilson's popularity, has been a failure, and while the national lawmakers have been in constant session the "rainbow" war accomplished is largely responsible for an army of idle men and the demoralized conditions which disturb our business and industrial interests.

The election of yesterday is a fore-runner of what will happen two years hence. While many changes will occur in Congress, it is well that both houses should remain Democratic for the party should have full swing while in power, and held accountable for results. The Progressive party, which was largely Colonel Roosevelt's personal organ, seems to have gone up in smoke, and it is yet too early to determine whether its scattered form will be able to rally.

The results of yesterday's election will have a steady influence on the country, and will prove an entering wedge in restoring confidence and that is what is needed today, more than anything else. A return to sanity, in both the state and nation is the hopeful outlook, and it is occasion for profound thanksgiving.

MODERN WARFARE.

The wholesale slaughter of men, now going on in the old world, is described by a recent writer as killing men by machinery. He says:

"Those who care about facts will find food for thought in the official reports of a recent naval victory (or disaster) in the North Sea. A submarine with a crew of eight or nine men attacks and sinks three cruisers carrying about 2,200 men. Of these latter some 1,400 are drowned. These men were not challenged to fight; they were not summoned to surrender; they are murdered wholesale while asleep in their bunks—cheaply, expeditiously, and with a minimum of risk to those who destroyed them. That is modern war. The affair described is discussed at great length by naval experts who argue whether battleships are obsolete. The "victors" are lauded and decorated, and take their place in the world's news. Blackboard would understand that victory and approve it, so would Attila, so would Nero, but we should like to see a board of naval strategists trying to explain these modern methods to Sir Philip Sidney or Nelson or Bayard. The modern world is more practical than chivalrous."

Murder is the only word that applies to this kind of warfare, and many of the methods used are as dastardly as stabbing a man in the back. The armies, as well as the navies are equipped with instruments equally destructive, and machine guns mow down the ranks and annihilate movements, at every discharge. The history of this frightful war will read like a page from the dark ages, and Christian civilization is receiving a set back from which it will not soon recover. There is more demand for missionary work among the Christian than among the heathen nations, for they have much yet to learn about the way to live.

Many of the poor fellows who thought they were living under the protection of Christian civilization, have been murdered in cold blood, and many more will pay the penalty. Modern warfare is destitute of humanity.

From present appearances the war has just commenced, almost every nation in the old world is now involved, and new armies are entering the field every day. Treasuries are being depleted, and war taxes are being levied, but until the money is spent and the armies annihilated the conflict will continue. The war is a war of extermination, and a real comment on twentieth century civilization.

People who are interested in Father Dutton and his work among the lepers in Hawaii will be glad to know that the government is doing some successful experimental work in the leper colony in Manila. A report of this work has recently been sent by the United States Public Health Service. The experiments have been carried on for a year at the San Lazaro hospital under the supervision of Rupert Blue, surgeon general. Twelve cases have been under treatment for a year, and all show marked improvement as shown by pictures taken as the treatment progressed. The surgeon is confident that the disease can be cured if taken in its early stages.

The Swiss navy has not yet been called into action; neither has the German navy, except for a few battleships that seem to be accounting for themselves pretty well. Thank you. However, the Swiss navy may be called upon some day so all recruits should be ready.

The crops are all harvested. The average farmer has almost computed to a cent what he has made this past eight months, and the cry, "Back to the soil!" is stronger than ever. The man who first said the American farmer was the backbone of the nation did not know how well he bulled into the future.

PRESTON W. PUFFER IS DEAD AT MONROE

Veteran Railroad Man, a Former Janesville Resident, Succumbs. Last Night at Ten-Thirty. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Monroe, Wis., Nov. 4.—Preston W. Puffer, one of the best known business men of Green county and veteran railroad man of the Mineral Point division of the St. Paul road, passed away at his home here at ten-thirty o'clock last night. He had been seriously ill for forty-eight hours preceding his death.

Mr. Puffer entered the service of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at Mineral Point, Wis., in 1886 at the time of the building of the Mineral Point extension. He became agent here January 15, 1889, and continued in that capacity for many years until advancing age compelled his retirement.

Mr. Puffer was born at Andover, Vt., Aug. 28, 1822. At the age of eighteen years he went to New York, where he became a clerk, but after three years he came to Wisconsin, located at Janesville in 1853. After two years in the furniture business at Janesville he became connected with the Northwestern railroad and later with the St. Paul. His marriage to Helen R. Noggle, daughter of the late Judge Noggle of Janesville, occurred on Dec. 23rd, 1856 at the Bower City. His wife and one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Rood of Monroe survive.

Mr. Puffer was a prominent member of the Masonic order. He was a member of the A. F. and A. M. of Janesville and of Palestine chapter, No. 81, R. A. M. of the city. The members of the Masonic fraternity will have charge of the funeral services at the home at one-thirty o'clock Friday afternoon.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements.

This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fats, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is free from harmful drugs or alcohol.

RECORD-BREAKING GRAIN EXPORTS ARE SIGNIFICANT

By Robert H. Benedict.

One of the most striking evidences of the advance of better times is the remarkable trading in grain during the past few weeks.

Sales of wheat for export averaged from one to three million bushels per day during export. During one week they reached a total of nearly 12,000,000 bushels. Exports for September broke all records for the month with a total of 31,270,000 bushels. The figures will doubtless show October as another record breaker, as sales were limited only by the supplies obtainable.

There seems to be practically no limit to the foreign demand. Soldiers must be fed if they are to fight, and they eat more bread while in the field than when engaged in peaceful occupations.

The result of this strong demand has been a steadily increasing price, with corresponding increases in corn and oats.

The enormous sales of wheat at high prices, coming in a year of record breaking crops, with prospects of a foreign demand continuing until every available bushel has been sold, means that Easy street will extend to practically every farm in the middle west this year. Europe will pay us over $300,000,000 for wheat alone.

Our share of the lion's share of the world's wheat crop this year, and so there is small chance of a sharp decline in price. Canadian farmers have little wheat on hand.

The increased prosperity of our farmers is reflected in the fact that forty-four middle western cities show increased bank clearings as compared with a year ago.

Money is beginning to move, and we will all get our share.

Change of Scene. Irritability is often cured by a change of scene. If a family could separate for a day or so, many of the little annoyances would be cleared up by the happy reunion.

The little boy in the long ago. Was a hero three feet tall. With his sword in hand, he gave command. That the woodshed for must fall. The backward fight, a desperate fray. Was waged with might and main. The little boy marched away each day. But he always came back again.

And the years rolled on and the battle call. Was echoed from hill to hill. And they sprang to arms from the towns and farms. To the tones of the bugle shrill. Then he marched away on August day. To the altar of sacrifice. Where the war lords slay and the people pay. With a will, the fearful price. Yes, he marched along with a fervent song. To the desolate, death-strewn plain. He's the same little boy with the sword and gun— But he'll never come back again.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY OFFICERS RETURNED

COUNTY REPUBLICAN TICKET RUNS AHEAD OF STATE BY MARGIN OF A THOUSAND VOTES.

WITH BIG MAJORITIES

Chamberlain Defeats Carter for Sheriff by 3,000.—Lee Re-Elected County Clerk by Margin of 2,661.

The present county officers were re-elected at the polls yesterday by majorities ranging from 1,000 to 1,200 votes ahead of Philip's lead over Karel. The county republican ticket ran way ahead the state ticket in every precinct.

Odell Chamberlain of Beloit will be the next Rock county sheriff, his majority over Floyd Carter of Beloit, democrat, being 3,005. This was the largest majority by which any man carried the county.

Howard W. Lee of this city, the present county clerk, defeated John Q. Timmons, his democratic opponent, by 2,661, Lee's total being 4,523 against 1,862 for Timmons, according to unofficial returns from all but two county precincts.

Jesse Earle was re-elected clerk of the circuit court by a majority of 2,668 over L. E. Bookout, his democratic opponent. Stanley G. Dunwiddie will again serve the county as district attorney, receiving a vote of 4,501, with 1,799 for Cornelius Buckley, democrat, of Beloit. Dunwiddie's victory was by a margin of 2,490 or thereabouts.

F. F. Livermore of Beloit will continue in the capacity of county treasurer, his majority over Clarke Palmer, democrat, of the town of Lima, being 2,420. Frank P. Smiley was re-elected man, democrat, of the town of Fulton, by 2,647. Livermore has served one term as treasurer and Smiley, two terms as register.

The accompanying table gives the returns from the various precincts on the county ticket:

BIG CROWD AWAITED ELECTION RETURNS

Stereoscopic Slides at the Gazette Gives Earliest Vote Totals to Anxious Voters.

Gazette bulletins were a drawing card to anxious persons desiring the early results of the state and county vote last night. The long ballot and the ten amendments made the count very slow but nevertheless the crowd was in good humor and appreciated the efforts of the Gazette in getting the slides on the screen as rapidly as possible.
At 9 o'clock a Milwaukee telephone message said that Philip would carry the state with from 25,000 to 35,000, that Penrose had carried Fulton and that Sullivan and Sherman were fighting for honors in Illinois. Shortly after another message gave scattering county and precinct returns of the state.
The Busy Bee club will meet in West Side Odd Fellows' hall, Thursday, at 3 p. m. A good attendance is expected as a matter of importance is to be decided. Supper will be served.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE AT POLICE STATION

Chimney Sweep Saved From Voluntary Death by Policeman Gower This Morning.

Despondent because he was out of work, broke and without home or friends, Robert Armitage of Milwaukee, a chimney sweep, attempted to commit suicide this morning in the city hall police station by cutting a wicked slash in his wrist, severing the artery to his heart.

It happened that Desk Sergeant William Gower had occasion to visit the cell room and his attention was attracted to the cell where Armitage was sleeping. By seeing the knife stuck into the back of the man's hand, after cutting his wrist, laid on the bunk with his bleeding hand over the lavatory, waiting for death. The other officers of the city hall police station were notified.

Armitage, after cutting his wrist, lay on the bunk with his bleeding hand over the lavatory, waiting for death. The other officers of the city hall police station were notified.

Chief of Police Champion, Armitage stated that he was unable to find work of late and had been drinking heavily and this morning resolved to end his life.

The man came to the police station early last night and asked to be allowed to sleep in the cells, which was granted. Armitage was in the cells this week with two other members of the profession, who departed unknown to Armitage yesterday.

That the disheartened man did not succeed in his effort was due to the success of Officer Gower to the "bull pen" as there were no other lodges and only one prisoner in the cell room at that hour this morning. The man was not unconscious when discovered, but was very weak from the loss of blood.

He will be held by the authorities until tomorrow and an effort will be made to find him employment, for he has not the appearance of a vagrant, but a workman in hard luck.

COUNTY FOR PHILIP BY 1,500 MAJORITY

McGovern RUNS AHEAD OF HUSTING, INDICATING A DEMOCRATIC SLUMP.

BLAINE A POOR THIRD

Independent Candidate Polls 1,224 in County.—Cooper's Majority Over Stewart is 2,576.

Emmanuel L. Philipp, republican candidate for governor, gave a majority of 1,581 votes over Judge John C. Karel, his democratic opponent, in Rock county on Tuesday. This was a decided slump for the democrats, the result of two years ago, when Karel pressed McGovern, the latter carrying by a margin of only 454.

Philipp's strength was uniform throughout the county, where he carried all but five precincts, Janesville fourth and fifth wards, Edgerton and the towns of Porter and Rock. The town of Milton, which gave Alexander Paul such a handsome vote, failed to go for Karel.

John J. Blaine of Boscobel, the independent candidate, was a very poor third in the county, his total vote being 1,224 against 3,762 for Philipp and 2,181 for Karel. Blaine made his best showing in Beloit, but he failed to carry a single precinct in the county.

Janesville for Philipp. In spite of a large democratic vote in the fourth and fifth wards, the city of Janesville gave a majority for Philipp of 1,064 over Karel's 899. The total vote for Philipp against Karel according to the unofficial returns.

The returns in Rock county seem to indicate that Blaine's light vote into Karel as much if not more than it did into Philipp as McGovern carried the county in the United States senatorial contest over Husting by a majority of 1,489, within a hundred votes of Philipp's margin.

The total vote for McGovern was 3,828 and Husting 2,348. In the city of Janesville McGovern received 922 to Husting's 942, a margin of 80. On the remainder of the state ticket at Ditchman ran ahead of Hoyt by 2,202 votes; Johnson had the better of

GAVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON ASIA

K. E. Pease, of Singapore, Indo-China, Interests Large Number at M. E. Brotherhood Last Night.

K. E. Pease of Singapore, Indo-China, with his illustrated talk on the subject, "Educational Attack on East Asia," intensely interested about sixty members of the Methodist church brotherhood at the regular monthly banquet and meeting of the organization, held last evening in the church parlors.

Dr. Pease, who has been in the Orient for many years, as a missionary from Northwestern University of Evanston, Illinois, presented valuable information and facts concerning the educational advantages and disadvantages in the countries that lie in Eastern Asia. The slides which he used were beautifully colored, and aided greatly in bringing out the speaker's points, which were based almost exclusively on education. He pointed out what might be done to make the people of these countries more learned and more active. The Malays wear what can be called full dress. Many are only partly clad in the richest colored robes imaginable, representing a rainbow in the streets. A visitor into these lands will at once notice the lack of educational facilities, and the people's lack of desire to become learned, by noting their dress.

An elaborate banquet was held at 6:45, and was served by Mrs. Brooks of the church.

FOR HOW LONG?

Janesville Raises a Pertinent Question.

When a neighbor tells us that he has recovered from a serious illness, the first question that naturally arises is, "How long will he keep well?" Temporary relief is one thing, but a lasting cure is altogether different. There is nothing temporary about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills as the following Janesville evidence proves beyond a doubt.

Mrs. Mohs, 310 N. Academy St., Janesville, says: "I was suffering from an attack of kidney trouble. I went to the People's Drug Co. and got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills. One or two boxes cured the ailment. Others of my family have used Doan's Kidney Pills with very satisfactory results."

A Lasting Cure. On July 2, 1913, Mrs. Mohs said: "I haven't had any trouble from my kidneys since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me several years ago. I will give you permission to continue publishing my former statement."

"Mr. Barcus!"

"Hello!" he replied, startled. "What is it, Miss Judith?"

"Please let me out."

"Not much."

"Oh—please!"

Struck by the fact that she hadn't lost her temper on hearing his refusal, he hesitated. It was very true that he couldn't stay there forever, holding on to that knob.

"Will you be good if I let you out?"

"Perfectly."

"No more shenanigan?"

"I promise."

"Word of honor?"

"If my word of honor means anything to you—you have it."

"Well—!" he said dubiously.

In the same humor he turned and released the knob; promptly Judith opened it wide and swept out into the corridor, her mood now one of really fetching mockery.

"Thank you so much!" she laughed into his face of discomfiture; and dropping him an ironic curtsy, she turned forward and swung into the drawing room occupied by Trine.

"Wonder what she put that on for?" he speculated, with reference to the ankle-long Pullman wrapper which Judith had seen it to don during her period of captivity. "Heaven knows it's hot enough without wearing more clothing than decency demands."

But you never can tell about a woman. I bet a dollar I've made a blithering ass of myself—letting her loose at all!"

He took his doubts at, communicating them to Alan and Rose.

And his long conference with Alan and Rose on the observation platform afforded Judith ample opportunity in which undetected to suborn the train crew to treachery.

Whether she did or not, this is what happened in the course of the next hour: the special was forced to take a siding to make way for the California limited, east-bound; and when this had passed, the engine of the special coughed apologetically and pulled swiftly out, leaving the Pullman stalled on the siding.

From the rear of the tender the brakeman and fireman waved affecting farewells to the indignant faces of Alan and Barcus when they showed in the front doorway.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

Hand Car.

"Well!" Mr. Barcus broke a silence whose eloquence may not be translated in print—"can you beat it?"

"Not with this outfit," Alan admitted gloomily.

"But—damn it!—we've got to."

"Profanity—even yours, my friend—won't make this Pullman move without an engine."

"All the same, we can't stop here like bums on a log, waiting for that gang of thugs to sail up in the light engine and cut our blessed throats."

Mr. Law answered this unanswerable contention only with a shrug. Then, stepping out on the forward platform of the Pullman, he cast a hopeless eye over the landscape.

Raw, rugged hills hemmed in the right of way, hills whose vast flanks were covered with dense thickets of mesquite, chapparal, sagebrush and cacti, the haunt of owls and rattlesnakes and—solitude. No way of escape from that pocket in the hills other than by the railroad itself.

He lowered his gaze to the tracks and siding—and started sharply.

"Eh—what now?" Barcus inquired with interest.

"Some thoughtful body has left an old hand car over there in the ditch," Alan replied. "Maybe it isn't beyond service."

"With me supplying the horsepower, I suppose!"

"Horse isn't the word," Alan corrected meticulously; and escaped the other's wrath by dropping down to the ballast and trotting over to the ditch, where the hand car lay.

"Looks as if it might work," he announced. "Come along and lend me a hand."

"Half a minute," Barcus answered, dodging suddenly back into the car.

When he reappeared, after some five minutes, Rose accompanied him, and Barcus was smiling as brilliantly as though nothing whatever was wrong with his world.

"Sorry to keep you waiting, old top," he explained; "but I was smitten with an inspiration. There didn't seem to be any sense in letting the amiable Judith loose upon this fair land, so I found a coil of wire in the porter's closet and wired the handle of the drawing room door fast to the bars across the aisle. It'll take her some time to get out, now, without assistance."

Ten minutes more had passed before the two grimy and perspiring gentlemen succeeded in placing the hand car upon the tracks.

"It's a swell little hand car," Barcus observed grimly; "no wonder they threw it away."

"What's the difference how it looks, as long as it will go?"

"But will it?" Barcus doubted.

Somewhere far back along the line a locomotive hooted mournfully.

"It's got to!" Alan replied, helping Rose aboard. "If we can only get out of sight before they get here—"

"Don't worry," Barcus advised: "that's a freight whistle."

"Maybe you can distinguish the whistle of a freight from that of a passenger train—I don't say you can't; but I'll take no chances on your judgment being good. Hop aboard here if you're coming with us!"

Slowly the hand car stirred on its grease-bungy and complaining axles; slowly it gathered momentum and surged noisily up the track as Alan and Barcus, on opposite sides of the handlebar, alternately rose and fell back; slowly it mounted the slight grade to the bend in the track, rounded it, lost sight of the stalled Pullman on the siding and began to move more swiftly on a moderate down grade.

Behind it the thunder of an approaching train grew momentarily in volume, lending color to the theory of Mr. Barcus that what they had heard had been the whistle of a freighter rather than of the light engine. But just as Alan was about to advocate leaving the tracks and taking the hand car with them, to clear the way for the train, its rumble began to diminish, grew less and beautifully less, and was stilled.

"What do you make of that?" Alan panted across the racking bar.

"The obvious," Barcus returned. "The freight has taken the siding to pass for some other through train to wait. We'll have to look sharp and be ready to jump."

The grade became a trace more steep; the car moved with less reluctance.

"Let go," Alan advised: "it'll coast down the balance of this incline and we'd better save our strength."

But they had barely regained their breath and mopped the streaming sweat away from their eyes when a second whistle, of a different tone, startled both back to their task.

Catching the eye of Barcus Alan nodded despairingly.

"Afraid it's all up with us now," he groaned; "that sounded precisely like the whistle of the light engine."

"Sure it did!" Barcus agreed. "It wouldn't be us if we had any better luck. The saints be praised for this grade!"

For all its age and decrepitude the hand car made a very fair pace at the urge of the two who rose and sagged again without respite on either side the handlebar; and the grade was happily long, turning and twisting like a snake through the hills.

A little grace was granted them, moreover, through the circumstance (as they afterward discovered) that the light engine had stopped at the siding long enough to couple up Trine's Pullman—thus automatically ceasing to be a light engine, and becoming a special.

It was fully a quarter of an hour before the growing rumble of the latter warned the trio on the hand car, just as it gained the end of the grade and addressed itself to a level though tortuous stretch of track.

And at this point discovery of the switch of a spur line that shot off southward into the hills furnished Alan with his independent inspiration.

Stopping the hand car after it had jolted over the frogs, he jumped down.

set the switch to shunt the pursuit off to the spur, and leaped back upon the car.

Hardly had they succeeded in working the hand car up round the shoulder of the next bend when the special took the switch without pause and the roar of its progress, shut off by an intervening mountain, was suddenly stilled to a murmur.

But even so, there was neither rest for the weary nor much excuse for self-congratulation; the rumble of the special was not altogether lost to hearing when the thunder of the freight replaced and drowned it out.

Of a sudden, releasing the handlebar, Alan stood up and signed to Barcus to imitate his example.

"Well—" this last panted, when he had obeyed.

"Jump off—leave the hand car where it is—they'll have to stop to clear it off the track."

"And then?"

"I'll buy a lift from them if it takes my last dollar in the world," Alan promised. "It's our only hope. We can't keep up this heartbreathing business forever—and it can't be long before Trine and Marrophat discover their mistake!"

CHAPTER XXXV.

Caboose.

For once, in a way, it fell out precisely as Mr. Law had planned and prayed.

Constrained to pull up in order to remove the obstruction from the track, the train crew of the freight choked down its collective wrath on being presented with a sum of money. In the hopes of further largesse it lent its common ear to Alan's well-worn tale, which had so frequently proved useful in similar emergencies, of an eloping couple pursued by an unreasoningly vindictive parent; and had its hopes rewarded by the price Alan bargained to pay in exchange for exclusive use of the caboose as far as the next town.

So that it was not more than ten minutes before Rose was settled to rest in such comfort as the caboose afforded, while Alan and Barcus sat within its doorway and smoked.

Neither he nor any other aboard the freight suspected for an instant that, in the box car next forward of the caboose, a woman in man's clothing lay perched, now and again chuckling impishly to herself in anticipation of the time and the event she was biding with such patience as she could muster.

The whistle of a locomotive overtaking the freight sounded the signal for her to take action on her cherished plan.

Rising, she glanced out of the open door. A curve in the track below the freight, laboring up a steep grade, enabled her to catch a glimpse of a headlight, followed by a string of lighted windows, indicating a single car: the special, beyond a doubt.

Without hesitation, since the train was not running at speed, she dropped out to the ballast, wheeled smartly about, caught the handbar at the end of the box car as it passed and swung herself up between it and the caboose.

A trifle later the freight gained the summit of the grade and began to run more smoothly.

Climbing to the top of the box car she peered keenly through the gloaming, which was not yet so dense that she might not discern two heads protruding from the window of the special's engine, one on either side.

At a venture, she snatched off her coat and waved it wildly in the air.

An arm answered the signal from one window of the pursuing locomotive.

Marrophat, of course!

She turned and peered ahead. The freight was approaching a trestle that spanned a wide and shallow gully.

So much the better!

Dropping down again between the cars, she set herself to solve the problem of uncoupling the caboose.

In this she was successful just as the last car rolled out on the trestle.

Its own impetus carried the caboose to the middle of the trestle before it stopped.

As this happened, Alan and Barcus, already warned of an emergency by the slowing down of the car, and for some time alive to the fact that the special was again in pursuit, leaped out upon the ties and helped Rose to alight.

Already the last of the freight was whisking off the trestle, its crew thus far, unconscious of their loss.

And behind them the special was plunging forward at unabated speed.

There was no time to execute their plan of the first desperate instant—to run along the ties to safety on the solid earth: the distance was too great; they could not possibly make it.

With common impulse the two men glanced down to the bottom of the gully, then looked at each other with eyes informed by common inspiration.

Barcus announced in a breath: "Thirty feet—not more."

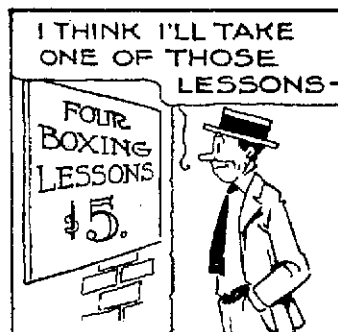

Alan replied: "Can you hold the weight of the two of us for half a minute?"

Barcus shrugged: "I can try. We might as well—even if I can't."

While speaking, he was lowering himself between the ties.

"All right," he announced briefly. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Dinner Stories

In an asylum two worthies named Sandie and Tam formed a plan to make their escape. Sandie said to Tam:

"Bend down and I'll get on yer back and get on the tap o' the wall and haul ye up."

Sandie got on top of the wall and slid down the other side, saying:

"Tam, I think ye'll better to hide another fortnight, for ye're no near same yet."

"You used to send me candy before we were married," she said bitterly.

"Yes," he replied, just as bitterly; "and before we were married your father would occasionally hand me a few good claps."

A somewhat choleric gentleman, while waiting for his train, entered a barber's shop to be shaved. The barber was very deliberate in his movements, and the slow manner in which he applied lather got upon the customer's nerves. At last his patience gave way and he roared out:

"Here! for heaven's sake, hold the brush still and I'll wiggle my head."

She was even more afraid of cows than most girls, so when she spied a placid animal recumbent under a tree peacefully chewing its cud she at first refused to go through the pasture at all. Her husband calmed her fears to some extent and they started by, when hind legs first, as they always do. At this the little lady shrieked with terror and said: "Oh, Bob, hurry, hurry; he is getting ready to spring at us!"

So many people suffer from weak, inactive sluggish kidneys, and don't know what ails them. All tired out and miserable—run down and nervous—sleep poorly and no appetite—pain in back and sides—swollen ankles and joints—bladder weaknesses—that's kidney trouble. You need the medicine that stops the cause of your trouble. That's exactly what FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS do. They are tonic and strengthening, build up your kidneys, reduce swellings, make you feel fit, active and energetic again. They are a wonder to those using them. Try them yourself. Contain no habit forming drugs. Do not accept a substitute.

AMENDMENTS JOLTED BY VOTERS TUESDAY

None of Ten Carries in Any of Rock County Precincts Which Vote Against 5 to 1.

Reports from over the state indicate that the ten proposed constitutional amendments were defeated by a ratio of about 4 to 1. In Rock county the ratio of defeat was fair to be even greater according to late unofficial returns and will in some instances amount to 6 to 1.

There was no particular favorite among the amendments and all were voted against rather consistently with but slight variations. The home rule for cities provision had a fair amount of support in several precincts but not as much as amendments carried in any precinct as far as could be learned here today.

An example of the decisive character with which the amendments were "killed" is seen in the town of Fulton, where 119 voted against to 11 in favor. The first ward of Janesville voted against them 238 to 65; the second ward 222 to 32; the third 232 to 74; and the fourth 217 to 75. Reports from Beloit indicate that the ratio against was about 4 to 1.

Evansville News MRS. SARAH PEEBLES DEAD AT EVANSVILLE

Aged Resident of Village Called in Early Hours of Morning—Aunt—Sister in East.

Evansville, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Sarah Peebles, seventy years of age, the 22nd of October, died yesterday morning at Evansville for the past eighteen years, passed away this morning about 6 o'clock following a year's illness. Complication of diseases and her advanced age hastened the demise.

The deceased was born at Theresa, Jefferson county, York state. In 1854 she came to Wisconsin and settled on a farm about three miles southwest of this city. Her husband died thirty-two years ago.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Emma C. Patterson, of Toledo, O., and by three brothers, Myron Keyes of Berea, Ohio, of Beloit and Axel Keyes of Montana.

Funeral arrangements have been deferred pending word from the sister at Toledo.

EVANSVILLE DELEGATES AT STATE CLUB MEETING

Evansville, Nov. 4.—The following delegates representing Evansville clubs are present at the Wisconsin State Federation Convention of Women's Clubs which is being held at Racine this week.

Afternoon club—Mrs. V. H. Campbell, Mrs. Sylvia Colony, Mrs. Mae Evans.

Woman's Literary club—Miss Hattie Axtell, Mrs. C. P. Coo.

Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Coo pleasantly entertained the members of the official board of the M. E. church at dinner Monday evening at the parsonage. A very pleasant evening was reported by the fifteen guests present.

SENSATIONAL BOOK DISTRIBUTION

Everyone Can Now Have Roosevelt's Wonderful African Hunt Book.

The extraordinary display announcement elsewhere in these columns is being given details of Col. Roosevelt's "African Game Trails" gift distribution, will be welcomed by hosts of Gazette readers.

Ex-President Roosevelt's whirlwind dash into the African jungle was the most sensational feat ever accomplished by any traveler on the Dark Continent. The Colonel's prowess as a hunter of wild game and his reputation as a sportsman of every form of animal life are known the world over. His own personal account of the African trip is a daily record of the many remarkable and hair-raising experiences which befell him. The expedition included United States government naturalists and collectors, who prepared for shipment to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington the hundreds of birds, beasts and reptiles which were killed on the trip.

The Roosevelt party indulged in no wanton slaughter of animals, but killed only what was needed for food and for the group specimens to be later placed in the government exhibits.

The edition which is offered to readers of this paper on practically a complimentary basis is in many ways superior to that originally published and sold at $4 a copy. It is printed from the same plates as the original edition and contains, in addition, a number of superb color plates by the well known artist, Philip R. Goodwin, and a magnificent art cover in gold and three colors.

The plan whereby every reader of this paper can secure a copy by clipping six Game Trails coupons printed daily in another column, and bringing them, together with the expense amount of 98c, to this office, enables all our readers, old and young, to secure this gorgeous volume at less than one-fourth its actual value. We urge our friends to clip the coupons appearing in this paper daily. The book is large octavo size, bound in library cloth, with more than 600 pages and over 200 photographic illustrations taken by Permit Roosevelt and other members of the party. It is interesting and instructive to every man and woman, boy or girl. Clip your first coupon today.

"Have used your Liniment very successfully in a case of rheumatism, and always have a bottle on hand in case of a cold or sore throat. I wish to say I think it is one of the best of household remedies. I would not have used it only it was recommended to me by a friend of mine who, I wish to say, is one of the best boosters for your Liniment I ever saw."—J. W. Fuller, Denver, Col.

Just a line in praise of Sloan's Liniment. I have been ill nearly fourteen weeks with rheumatism, have been treated by doctors who did their best. I had no sleep for the terrible pain for several weeks when my wife got me a small bottle of the Liniment and three applications gave me relief so that I could sleep.—Joseph T. MILTON MINISTER IS LAID AT REST

Retired Clergyman Passes to His Maker.—Funeral Services Monday Afternoon.

Milton, Nov. 4.—The funeral services of the late Rev. William Thomas Miller were held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock in the Second Day Baptist church, Milton, where was gathered a large audience of sympathizing friends and a good representation of the pastors of the Janesville district. Rev. W. W. Maser, assisted by Revs. E. W. Maser, William Hooton, T. D. Williams, G. W. White, M. A. Drew, T. W. North, F. C. Richardson and L. C. Randolph, conducted the services, during which many appreciative words were spoken. Interment was made in the beautiful cemetery of Milton in the family lot by the side of a number of his loved ones.

William Thomas Miller was born in Duanesburgh, Schenectady county, New York, June 10, 1827. Quite a good deal of his young manhood, before his marriage, was spent in the school room as instructor.

June 22, 1851, he was united in marriage to Miss Isabelle Buchanan of the town of New Scotland, New York. In the spring of 1853 he came to Wisconsin and settled in the western part of the town of Lake Mills in Jefferson county, where he purchased a small tract of unimproved land and began to make a home in the forest. Winters were spent in teaching school and in the summers he engaged in farm duties.

In 1856 he was licensed to preach and though not accepting a stated charge, he had many opportunities to preach in the communities about here. In the ministry of the Methodist church he was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson at Beaver Dam in 1857 and as elder by Bishop Haven in 1872 at Fond du Lac. He was urged by the authorities of the church to give up his pastoral duties and to accept of a second pastorate. A short time he preached in Milton Junction while pastor of Milton, Heart Prairie, Richmond and Utter. Corners, Chippewa, DePere and Lima and Koskington.

On March 18, 1884, when living at Heart Prairie, the reaper, death, called at the parsonage for the wife of his youth.

Some three years afterwards, on the ninth of November, 1887, he was married to Mrs. Lettie B. LeMayne, who died June 9, 1894.

On August 8, 1895, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Priscilla E. Seaver who survives him and has tenderly cared for him through his declining years and through these last months of weakened health.

He is survived by his four sons, Webster, Perry, Frank and William Belle. He is also survived by thirteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Four daughters preceded him to the home on high.

Since his retirement from active service in the ministry, he has made his residence here in Milton, quietly attending to the duties of church and home life.

The funeral services of the late Carlton W. Crumb were held Monday afternoon from the residence of Dr. L. M. Babcock. Rev. Dr. Randolph officiated.

J. R. Davidson and wife of Milwaukee are visiting Milton relatives.

President Boland visited Madison today.

Milton, Nov. 4.—The funeral services of the late Rev. William Thomas Miller were held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock in the Second Day Baptist church, Milton, where was gathered a large audience of sympathizing friends and a good representation of the pastors of the Janesville district. Rev. W. W. Maser, assisted by Revs. E. W. Maser, William Hooton, T. D. Williams, G. W. White, M. A. Drew, T. W. North, F. C. Richardson and L. C. Randolph, conducted the services, during which many appreciative words were spoken. Interment was made in the beautiful cemetery of Milton in the family lot by the side of a number of his loved ones.

In 1856 he was licensed to preach and though not accepting a stated charge, he had many opportunities to preach in the communities about here. In the ministry of the Methodist church he was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson at Beaver Dam in 1857 and as elder by Bishop Haven in 1872 at Fond du Lac. He was urged by the authorities of the church to give up his pastoral duties and to accept of a second pastorate. A short time he preached in Milton Junction while pastor of Milton, Heart Prairie, Richmond and Utter. Corners, Chippewa, DePere and Lima and Koskington.
